Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

This is Newspaper Week. In general we have a small opinion of weeks to celebrate prunes, sanctity of the Constitution, education, world peace, onions, thrift, beans, home building, etc Personally, we doubt if more or less thinking on the various topics is done in these weeks set apart for the purpose than in other weeks. Still, since this Week happens to be down our alley, we do have a few thoughts on the subject that may be of general interest.

First for the peculiar chap that delights in collecting curious typographical errors: In an ordinary page of newspaper type there is a chance for just 52,000 typographical blunders. If he collects four or five on each page he reads, and pastes the pages together, end to end, how many will he require to paste a strip around the equator?

The publishing business is California's second largest industry. It is greater than oil, fruit, or gold mining. It is exceeded only by the movies.

Mailing a penny postcard, printed, to 900 subscribers of the Nevada City Nugget, costs.. just 56 times more than a classified advertisement in these columns. Mailing a circular, 4½ by 9 inches, to the same number, costs four times as much as a display advertisement of the same size in these columns.

The payroll of the Nevada City Nugget is double each week the amount of money received in subscriptions, and 98 per cent of this payroll is spent with the local merchants.

In one week California newspapers use enough paper to sink the U. S. Navy's largest battleship, and in six months enough ink to float it.

If the Nevada City Nugget were to print eight pages on Friday in type as high as an ordinary fence, and the lines joined, it would reach from here to Sacramento.

The value of the space contributed by the Nevada City Nugget freely and gladly, to charities, to local activities that have for their object the upbuilding of this community, the city improvements, such as the municipal park and the public schools, if paid for at usual display rates, would aggregate more than $5,000 a year. We know of no private citizen who contributes that much to the community welfare and upbuilding. California newspapers as a whole contribute an aggregate of $20,000,000 a year in this manner for the above mentioned purposes.

An Ethiopian raiding party has captured Oddur in Italian Somaliland. The dispatches do not say, but we suspect that their next objective will be a town named "Fragrance" in Eritrea.

Mine Employment Hits New High Level

ROTARIANS HEAR SCOUT EXECUTIVE

The Nevada City Rotary club at its meeting Thursday noon at the National Hotel had the pleasure of hearing Scout Executive "Rick" Ricksecker of Tahoe Area recount experiences and incidents of the trip of the Boy Scouts on their educational cross couutry trip during August.

His talk was intensely interesting and the club received a new insight into the value of the trip to the boys.

President Oscar Odegaard announced that the Grammar School P. T. A. asked the club's assistance in making their coming Country Fair a success. Proceeds of the fair are to be applied to a start on a log lodge for the local scouts. This will be located in Pioneer Park.

HOWARD PENROSE GIVES SILVER FOOTBALL TROPHY

Howard Penrose, local merchant and alumnus of Nevada City high school, has offered a silver trophy to be presented to the member of the Nevada City high school football team who, at the close of the season, has proven the best man in ability, sportsmanship and leadership.

Coach B. C. Barron announced yesterday that a committee to award the trophy has not as yet been selected. It may, he said, be comprised of members of the team although nothing definite has been decided as yet.

The trophy will be displayed later in the season at a place to be announced in another issue of the Nugget.

Monthly Mine Payroll In County, $359,660

With this month's tabulation of employment and payrolls in the mining industry, a big forward stride has been taken. The September report showed 2,430 men employed in Navada County mines, October's employment shows 2,569. This means a gain of 139 men in the month, and a gain of $19,460 in monthly payroll for the county. The total payroll for the county now aggregates $359,660.

During the last few weeks the big Brunswick mill has been completed by the Idaho Maryland necessitating the employment in mining of 125 more men. This accounts in the main for the big increase in the number of men employed. Idaho Maryland is now next in line to the Newmont company in the number of men employed.

BULLION MINE

Ore mined at the Bullion mine below Grass Valley is being milled at the Idaho Maryland mine mill. The old Alaska shaft on the property is being reopened with a crew of ten.

IDAHO MARYLAND MINES CO.

Abou- 400 tons of ore per day is being treated at the Idaho Maryland and Brunswick mills by the Idaho-Maryland Mines Co., Inc. north of Grass Valley. The big Brunswick mill has been completed and due to increased production 125 more men have been employed at the property since last month. The circular shaft being bored to contact a tunnel between the Idaho Maryland and the Brunswick shafts, is down about 700 feet and good progress is reported. Mr. Errol Mac Boyle is superintendent and general manager.

OSBORNE HILL PROPERTY

San Francisco capitalists under Mr. Whitcomb of Colfax, have had cleaned out the old shafts on the south end of Osborne Hill at Grass Valley and are doing some prospecting. In the group of several claims are the McCabe and Thomas properties.

SULTANA PROPERTY

Development continues at the Sultana property on the east of Osborne Hill at Grass Valley by the Empire-Star Company, although the tests of the first sampling of ore was unsatisfactory. An old shaft on the property has been de-watered.

TINTIC STANDARD COMPANY

Drifting on bedrock in an old channel continues at the Blue Point gravel property at Smartsville being operated by the Tintic Standard Company of Arizona. Milton Paine, cousin of Alonzo Paine, of Nevada City, is in charge of operations.

ICARD RANCH PROPERTY

SCHOOL BOARD GETS READY TO START BUILDING

The Board of School Directors met yesterday afternoon and canvassed the vote in the bond election. They found no material differences in their count and that of the election officials. Preparations were made for the issuance of bonds.

Work, it is planned, will begin on the addition to the Nevada City high school on or before December 15. Everything possible is being done to have the plans and specifications completed.

Nothing has yet been heard from Washington regarding the grant to the grammar school building so no definite action can yet be taken by the board in regard to it.

William Mooser and Charles A. Lindley, San Francisco architects, who made the plans for the proposed addition to the high school and the new grammar school building, attended a meeting of the school board Monday night and went over the plans in detail with the board.

27 MEN UNDER WPA AT WORK ON BANNER RD.

Work started on the first WPA project in Nevada County Wednesday with 27 men employed. It is the grading and improving of the Banner road from Town Talk to the crest of the mountain. Including the county appropriation, $9,000 has been allocated for the project.

NEVADA COUNTY RELIEF ROLL AT LOW EBB

According to dispatches received from San Francisco work on many WPA projects will start immediately. At the headquarters of the WPA in this city it is learned that only 300 persons are now on relief in this county as contrasted with 900 at the peak of unemployment in February, 1934. It is expected, however that with winter approaching and summer jobs terminating, that there will be a considerable increase in the numbers applying for relief.

SIERRA MINES SHOW ACTIVITY

Sam Hill of the Mountain Messenger reports that mining is making fast progress in Sierra county. He states that work on City of Six on the Old Forest City Trail, is continuing and D. E. Hunter one of the owners, reports that an upraise from the new tunnel to the original tunnel of 420 feet has recently been completed.

This mine is of quartz formation and was first discovered by Tim Dolan. Since that time it has never ceased operations.

A modern stamp mill stands on the property as well as compressor room and tool house and a strongly constructed ore bin.

The type of ore being taken out is highly gratifying.

Hill reports that considerable activity hasbe gun at the Golden Bear mine. Superintendent P. H. Hickey, stated that he has twelve men, under him who are working continuously.

The mine is a gravel deposit, and is at present being worked on a 220 foot level, with a diversion tunnel, running at that point. The gravel is hauled to the bin by an electric hoist, the lift being of cable suspension.

The men have been split into two crews ,one working the gravel, and the other running a 600 foot cross cut to the old Cincinnati vein.

The grade of gravel is good, running about $12 to the gravel foot, and the mine will operate all winter.

A modern two story mess and bunk house has been constructed on the property as well as a large galvanized iron building, which houses the hoist, gravel bin, blacksmith shop, and compressor room which is equipped with a fine ,modern compressor.

P. H. Hickey, the superintendent reports the prospects for the development of this mine are good, hence their plan to run all winter.

The Ruby mine is now employing 40 men, and extensive improvements are being made.

OPERATION SUCCESSFUL

The family of Mrs. Clayton Chatfield, who underwent a severe operation for goiter at the University of California in San Francisco, on Tuesday, has received word that she is getting along nicely. Dr. Henry Searles, formerly of Nevada City performed the operation.

WHISKER PROMOTES NEW FIELD

A. L. Whisker, well known as the organizer of the Nevada Irrigation District, Grass Valley, is the leading spirit in the promotion of a new mining district, 37 miles north of Truckee, known as Meadow Lake. A very strong ledge of arsenical pyrite is exposed in a [illegible] from four to twelve feet and running in value from $6 to $12. The ledge has the appearance of being of deep origin but eroded or sheared off by glacial action. Whisker is working a small mill but experiencing difficulty in recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Browning and children of this city have moved to North Bloomfield to make their

P. T. A. County Fair Is Next Big Event

The program for the Country Fair to be held November 2 in Armory Hall under the auspices of the Washington school P. T. A. as benefit for a new scout hall, is being rapidly whipped into shape. The committee in charge of exhibits report that they are not only receiving letters from many individuals who wish to enter exhibits, but that a large number of farms in Nevada County are getting displays of fruits and other farm products ready. Nevada county apples will be one of the big features of the display.

Amateur stage artists, Christian Anderson, in charge of the program, reports, are entering their acts for the amateur hour which will form part of the evening's entertainment.

In the way of refreshments new cider and fresh doughnuts will be featured.

A de luxe vaudeville program will be run off, following the amateur hour and the evening will conclude with a barn dance.

YELLOWJACKETS WILL MEET GRANT UNION SAT.

The Nevada City Yellowjackets, after a two day vacation following their victory over Roseville, began practice again Wednesday on a good field for their encounter next Wednesday with Grant outfit on the Sacramento gridiron of the Grant Union high school. The rain came at an ideal time for the locals as they had no game scheduled for tomorrow, and were given the opportunity to call time out for a couple of days before beginning again to plan the attack for another victory.

If the old demon "over-confidence" stays far, far away from the local eleven, their chances of ending the season as league champions are better than good. Playing for the first time in years against teams of equal size and weight, with Purple and Gold outfit is proving its worth by playing winning football for the school. The two year slump in gridiron activities is fast being removed, and all eyes are on Nevada City to chalk up the victories.

TRUE GRIT

The True Grit mine, worked as an open placer mine this season until water became low, is now being prepared for drifting. A crew of men, under M. O. Carlson is opening and retimbering a shaft.

NEVADA CITY TAVERN KEEPER FINED $100

Russell B. Farley, Board of Equalization supervisor, yesterday afternoon arrested Richard Keehn, of the Nevada City Tavern, for selling whiskey without having taken out his last quarter's license. Keehn pleaded guilty before Police Judge Miles Coughlin and was fined $100. Keehn paid $25 and was given three weeks in which to pay the balance of the fine.

SHINGLERS' DINNER ATTENDED BY FIFTY

A capacity crowd of fifty people attended the Shingler's Dinner held Wednesday evening in the parlors of the Methodist church. One of a series of events being held to assist in financing the completion of payments on the roof recently put on the church building, the dinner was considered a complete success by those in charge and those who attended.

A very tasty menu was prepared by the committee in charge which was composed of Mrs. Buckner, Mrs. Price, Miss Kimzie, Mrs. Towle, and Mrs. Phariss. More of such events will no doubt follow the success of the Wednesday night affair.

DAUGHTER OF 49ER RETURNS TO OLD HOME

Mrs. Laura A. Jeffers of Ventura is in Nevada City looking after her mining interests at French Corral and Sweetland. At French Corral she owns six acres of gravel that have tested 30 cents to $2.50 a ton. At Sweetland Point she owns six quartz claims that are said to promise well.

Mrs. Jeffers is the daughter of the late Judge F. R. Meyer of Oregon Bar, Yuba County. Meyer came to California on horseback from Texas in 1849. He returned to Texas in 1851, married, and came back to Oregon Bar. His wife was the first white woman in camp and the late Mrs. Mary French Mitchell was the first white child born there.

Governor Francis of Missouri says: "Each year the local newspaper gives away from $5,000 to $10,000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agent can or will do this. The Editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other ten men, and in all fairness he ought to be supported, not because you like or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. Today the editors of the local newspapers do the most for the least money of any people on earth."

Don't Tax Gold

(Contributed)

It is currently reported that Governor Merriam's administration is urging a severance tax on all natural resources including gold, as the solution of the state deficit which has to be met at the special session of the legislatrue in January. Friends of gold mining in this state should make their voices heard now in opposition to what amounts to a gross production tax on the output of California's gold mines. We understand that 3% is the figure suggested. California has made many mistakes in its taxation policy in the past, but none of them will compare with the mistake which it makes if it singles out its natural resources, and particularly its gold, for discriminatory taxation. Why should a man be taxed for the privilege of extracting gold or other minerals, or cutting timber on his own land any more than for the privilege of growing orchards or grain?

The claim is made by severance tax advocates that the mineral producer exhausts the taxable value of the soil and should be penalized. This is a fallacy. The mineral producer, through his enterprise, skill, and willingness to risk his money in a hazardous venture creates a value where none existed before; and so long as that value is added to the property, the government obtains its taxable return therefrom in the form of property taxes, income taxes, and sales taxes on everything that the producer uses. When the value which the mineral producer has added to the surface value of the land by the expenditure of his time, money, and enterprise, has been dissipated through the exhaustion of the mineral deposit, then indeed the land returns to its former value as non-mineral land. But the government has not suffered. It has received the proper taxes on the added value so long as that value existed. That value existed only because of the possibility of extraction of the minerals in question. If the minerals were in the land and incapable of being extracted, they would add no value to it.

Why then should the mineral producer be singled out for discriminatory taxation? If the state's deficit must be met it should not be met by discriminatory taxes, penalizing those communities of the state in which the production of natural resources is the principal industry. A tax program should be adopted which distributes the burden equitably among all. Paticularly unfair is the proposal to include gold in the category of taxable minerals, because, while the gold miner adds to the wealth of the state and takes nothing from it, he cannot pass along to his sole customer, the United States Government, in the form of an addition to the price of gold, taxes which are levied on his output. Engaged in one of the most hazardous of all industrial enterprises from the standpoint of probability of return, the gold miner must resent the proposal to still further penalize his courage and willingness to risk his capital and labor by discriminatory taxation.

POW WOW AT PAHATSI DESPITE BAD WEATHER

Despite the present apparent inclement weather the plans for the scout leaders pow wow to be held at Camp Pahatsi, October 19 and 20, are going ahead and leaders from every scout community will be present. It is expected that the snow now on the ground will have disappeared by then. Indications point to at least 30 scout leaders being present. Many are planning to come early on Saturday to look over camp or to fish.

Plenty of venison is already on hand to provide buck stew as a second Sunday meal. A party under the leadership of "Klondike Ike" Beecher is planning to furnish fish for a planked trout feed. Saturday night plans will be made for the tenth annual rally and new ideas will be discussed for a different type of spring camporee.

Earl Gates, scoutmaster of Loomis will have charge of the reorganization of the scout leaders association and instruction in part one of the Elements of Scoutmastership.

James Barr, assistant scoutmaster of Auburn will provide examples of scout games and methods. Russ Seley, scoutmaster of Apburn will present troop records. Cubbing will be handled by Fred Knudsen formerly cubmaster of Pack 1. Patrol functioning, led by Sam Partridge, assistant scoutmaster at Grass Valley. Troop committee helps will be discussed by A. F. Carveth, scoutmaster at Auburn. Scout executive Harris Ricksecker will give the latest news of the new senior council organization and how to attain the scoutmasters key.

Fred Stephen, scoutmaster at Roseville who is winter camp cook will be on deck to prepare the meals. Each leader is expected to bring blankets and "eating tools." and as many adults interested in scouting as possible. The program will start Saturday evening with a general picture of the scout programs. Cubbing scouting and senior scouts, which starts at age 15.

"You look like a nice, sensible girl. Let's get married."

"No. I'm just as sensible as I look."

FRENCH CORRAL GRAVEL PROPERTY

A reservoir is being constructed in the old FFrench Corral diggings, which will be a good sized lake of water, for sluicing operations at the property in the next few weeks. The entrance to the old tunnel has been partly cemented in to hold water, a pump installed ,and an engine is being set for operating the pumps. Hector Decluwe is in charge. Messrs. Hanley, Bart and A. A. Wise of the bay district are operating the property. Mr. Wise is a mine broker.

WPA HEAD HOPES 100,000 MEN AT WORK BY NOV. 15

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—California's $222,000,000 federal works program was definitely launched on Monday, October 14 on a statewide basis with the announcement of Frank Y. McLaughlin state WPA administrator, that 266 projects, totaling $3,154,298 have been released to district directors for immediate execution in 37 of the state's 58 counties.

Release of the projects to district directors, McLaughlin pointed out, means that the last obstacle to the actual opening of work on the various programs approved has been overcome and that funds are now available for putting men to work. Work on a number of these projects is already under way and other projects are expected to be launched as rapidly as work contracts can be let by district directors.

Of the $222,000,000 to be expended in California, approximately $122,000,000 has been allotted to the WPA program, while the remaining $100,000,000 will be spent on federally supervised projects.

The President has approved California's entire work relief program and the Comptroller General in Washington has signed about $65,000,000 of the total amount of warrants that ultimately will be received by the Works Progress Administration in this state. With funds being received at state WPA headquarters at the rate of several millions of dollars per week, the entire new work program is gaining headway rapidly, according to McLaughlin.

McLaughlin recently expressed the opinion that at least 100,000 men would be at work on California WPA projects before the middle of November and that the remaining 100,000 men on relief would have jobs by the first of the year.

Under the new WPA setup direct relief will be discontinued and those now on the dole will be absorbed on work projects at security or prevailing wages, depending upon the attitude of the sponsoring agencies. The federal government several weeks ago authorized McLaughlin to establish security wages ranging from $40 to $94 for a 120 hour work month.

In response to organized labor's demands that 120 hour month be reduced to enable union men to earn prevailing wages, McLaughlin announced he would leave the matter entirely in the hands of the sponsoring agencies.

"A reduction in the number of hours a man shall be required to work to earn security wages, automatically will result in an increase in the cost of a project," said McLaughlin. "We cannot exceed costs approved by Washington. Therefore if any sponsoring agency desires to pay prevailing, rather than security wages, it will first be required to offer full guarantee that it will stand responsible for any costs in excess of those approved in Washington."

More QUAKER BURNOIL Heaters Are In Use Today Than All Others of Their Type Combined.

The old-fashioned coal stove with its dust, dirt, ashes and drudgery is just as much out of date as the horse and buggy, the home without a radio, the old tin wash tub and kerosene lamps.

It is equally important to safeguard the health of your family with the uniform temperatures possible with the Quaker Burnoil heater, as well as to eliminate the drudgery and inconvenience of the old-fashioned coal stove.

That is why the true value of a modern Quaker Burnoil heater cannot be measured in dollars alone. It must be appraised by its ability to SERVE BETTER.

The Newspaper Guy

I see a man push his way through the lines
Of cops where the work of the "fire fiend shines."
"The chief?" I inquire—but the fireman replies,
"Gee, no. That's one of those newspaper guys."

I see a man start on the trail of a crook
And he scorns the police, but brings him to book.
"Sherlock Holmes?" I inquire. Someone scornfully cries:
"Sherlock H—. No: he's one of those newspaper guys."

I see a man sit in the seat of the great,
And they ask his advice upon matters of state.
"A diplomat, surely." But to my surprise
They tell me "he's one of those newspaper guys."

And some day I'll stand by the gates of gold,
And see a man pass through unquestioned and bold.
"A saint?" I'll ask, and Saint Peter'll reply
"No, he's only a plain, honest newspaper guy."

Steamed puddings are one of the favorite winter desserts and have the advantage of being better warmed over than at the first serving. But here is one thing to remember about a steamed pudding, if you wish to keep it from becoming soggy—never let it stop boiling for one second after it has begun, until the three hours are up. The fig pudding given today is "fit for a king" and will top off any Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner.

¼ pound suet (chopped fine).
2 cups bread crumbs.
1 cup brown sugar.
2 eggs.
Grated rind and juice of one lemon.
1 tablespoon molasses.
½ teaspoon nutmeg.
1 tablespoon flour.

Mix together and steam three hours. Serve hot with hard sauce or other pudding sauce.

To warm over, leave in original container or put in double boiler and steam one half hour.

ADDITIONAL MINING NEWS

extracted. The next step will be to sink a shaft to determine the width and length of the vein. George Icard, who is in the Philippine Islands is expected home shortly.

FREDERIC MINE

It is understood the lower shaft at the Frederic mine in Willow Valley east of Nevada City, has been cemented off for sinking operations, and a contract let to Jack Rondoni of Nevada City for sinking of another 200 feet on the vein, work starting this week. Mr. Bardill is in charge and represents New York capitalists who are developing the property.

OMEGA QUARTZ PROPERTY

It is reliably reported the Bradley interests have been prospecting the Omega quartz property in the Willow Valley district east of Nevada City. Mrs. Fogarty of San Francisco is interested in the property. Several months ago Lee Hunt sunk a 125 ft. shaft and good ore was taken out of a two foot ledge.

MURCHIE MINE

Work continues on the new shaft at the Murchie mine east of Nevada City. It is understood a station has been cut in the new shaft and new pumps installed at the property in recent weeks. New development has opened up unusually good quality ore on the 600 foot level according to reports. The bain shaft is 1600 feet deep. George Kervin of Nevada City is mine superintendent.

LE COMPTON MINE

Mr. E. J. N. Ott, owner of the St. Louis, LeCompton and other claims, in the Willow Valley district east of Nevada City, stated to a Nugget reporter this week that leasors operating his property over the last year have done more actual development than several parties who bonded the mine in past years. A mill on the property treats the ore.

RECTOR

Rev. Charles Washburn, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, spent Saturday at Sycamore Park near Buena Vista, taking five junior choir boys to fish for striped bass. In the group were Ainsley Fouyer, Buster Williams, George Schrader, Donald Bosworth, and Jack Widauf. They caught twenty four striped beauties. A dinner was enjoyed at Julius Cafe in Sacramento. Needless to say the boys had hearty appetites after the exciting day on the river.

XIX MINE AT MOORES FLAT

Mike Coughlin, owner of the XIX mine on Moores Flat came to Nevada City Sunday and returned on Tuesday. Mr. Coughlin has spent the summer at his property and accomplished a lot of work in drifting operations. This is a gravel property and good values are obtained when it is sluiced. Mr. Coughlin stated very little mining had been done around Moores Flat this season.

SECRET MINE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of the Secret mine southeast of Washington were Nevada City visitors today. They were taking their winter's supplies of mine equipment and groceries to the property. Mr. Smith has done considerable development work, driving a tunnel on good looking ore. In a short time it is planned to start cross cutting to another ledge on the property. A two stamp mill treats the ore as it is mined.

LAVA CAP MINE

Driving of the tunnel between the Banner and Central shafts continues with 2,500 feet completed and 4,000 feet more to go. No other development is being done outside of this long tunnel. A small electric locomotive has been purchased to handle ore on the 800 foot level at the Banner shaft. Between 180 and 200 tons of ore per day are being milled. Ten men are employed in raising the talings dam an additional 20 feet. The P. G. & E. Co., made a protest the debris was polluting the water in their canals. Ore in the Banner shaft while not so rich for a time is very good now. The building of a new nine mile road from Town Talk to Banner started Wednesday and will very materially assist employees and mine officials getting to the mine in bad weather. This road is under WPA and county supervision. Otto E. Schiffner is superintendent of the Lava Cap mine.

EMPRESS MINE

Ninety men are employed at the Empress mine in the Newtown district, where the big mill is treating ore as it is mined. It is reported some new hoisting equipment has been installed in recent weeks. Ed. C. Jacobs is superintendent of the mine.

JIM MINE

Good ore is being mined at the Jim quartz mine near Graniteville. A small mill on the property treats the ore. Supplies are being taken in for a winters run. Los Angeles financiers are operating the property.

SPANISH MINE

A bull dozer has been purchased by the Spanish mine above Washington and the road to the property is to be kept open this winter in order to haul out concentrates recovered from milling operations. Last winter the road was opened twice by the county but it is not sufficient for carrying out the ore and hauling in supplies. Ore is being mined in the upper and lower tunnels and it it believed in time the two tunnels will be connected by under ground tunnel. Bert Hardin is superintendent.

THURSDAY THIMBLE CLUB

Last Thursday afternoon the Thimble Club of Woodcraft held a most interesting and enjoyable meeting. Each member invited a guest, and forty nine were present for several hours of cards and a social time. Mrs. Ida Sweeney, won first prize, Mrs. Charles Sharp, second; and Mrs. Annie Browning, the consolotion. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

RAGON MINE

The program of diamond drilling is being continued at the Ragon mine west of Nevada City. An upraise is being put in off the west drift. Work of continuing the west drift was resumed yesterday. O. McCraney is superintendent with thirteen men employed.

CHARGED WITH IMPEDING TRAFFIC

Trial of W. A. Maxwell of Long street will take place tomorrow morning at nine o'clock. Maxwell is accused of permitting wood to be piled along Clay street, near his residence and thus impeding traffic. Maxwell has previously been ordered to move the wood as he is allegedly violating city ordinance 68.

GREAT NORTHERN PLANS OPENING NEW LEDGES

Arthur W. Hoge, president of the Great Northern Gold Mines, Inc., and what is known as the Hoge Mine in the Blue Tent District, states that their operations are proving to be very satisfactory. He says that Clarence Osborne, who is the manager of the leasing operation together with Billy Genasci, who was the orignal discoverer of the mine, are getting very satisfactory results and that all of the parties working with them are much pleased with the outlook for opening up new ore bodies in the footwall.

Mr. Hoge likewise states that he has plans underway whereby he expects to develop and open up the ledges that are known to exist in the foot wall country through a system of cross cutting and which he and the leasers believe will produce good results.

The one veing that has so far been opened up has shown higher average values than the average mine in the camp. Mr. Hoge states, that if they had been fortunate enough to have been producing their principal amount of ore at the present price of gold, they would have had all of the money necessary for carrying out their development plans and would today have been one of the major operators in the camp.

WASHINGTON P. T. A.

Washington Grammar School P. T. A. is holding a meeting in the school house at 2:30 this afternoon. Rev. Charles Washburn of the Episcopal church will give a talk on "Youth." This talk should bring out a good attendance of members who are interested in the youth of today. Under the direction of Mrs. Carl Libby, musical instructor, the primary class will render a song.

RIDGE PIONEER WILL REST IN FRENCH CORRAL

Funeral services for the late Thomas Hall, pioneer resident of the Ridge, will be held at ten o'clock this morning at St. Canice Catholic church, Father P. O'Reily officiating.

Interment will take place at the French Corral cemetery under the direction of Holmes Funeral Home.

The body of the late Thomas Hall, who disappeared from the home of his son, Charles Hall, in Folsom, last August, was found on Tuesday morning in the wild brush country about seven miles northeast of Folsom. The discovery was made by Albert Mock of Folsom.

Thomas Hall, 81 years of age, was born in Hamilton County, Ohio, in 1854. He migrated to California when 21 years of age, and settled at Sweetland There he met and married Emma Flander of Birchville to which village he later moved.

Until his retirement a few years ago, he was engaged in mining and for his knowledge of hydraulic mining he was widely known in mining circles.

He is survived by a son, Charles Hall, of Folsam, and two daughters. Eva Smith of Los Angeles, Lillian Scaroni, who resides on the old family property in Birchville, and other relatives in East Ohio.

Early one morning last August the deceased disappeared from home and at the end of the day did not return. Searching parties were organized and combed the country, descriptions were broadcast but no trace was found of the aged man until Albert Mock, who was hunting, accidentally came upon the body. It is presumed that the aged man became lost, and died from weakness and exposure.

Helping California To Prosper.

(By Joe Wilhoite)
Safeway Grocer

A lot of folks ask me how we Safeway grocers figure that Safeway money stays here, right in California. So I've done a little checking up.

During the last year our buyers bought thousands of dollars worth of California dried peaches, apricots, prunes and raisins. The money went to producers of our own state. It stayed at home, was spent at home.

That's why we say the Safeway family helps California to prosper—besides giving you better values, real money-savings every day.

BAY BRIDGE TRIP ENJOYED BY MR. LEGG

Mr. George Legg returned home Sunday from a business trip to San Francisco. While in that city he was the guest of engineers making an excursion trip over the bay bridge on Columbus Day. A launch took them to the central pier, on to the Oakland side for an examination of the pier and approach, then back to Goat Island where they walked through the tunnel. Returning to the big central pier a flight of 300 sealed-in steps were climbed to the top which was 512 feet high. The solid concrete base of the central pier would hold Armory Hall of this city standing it on end and have room to spare. Glancing through a small window in the hallway near the base of the big pier the city and all figures, piers, and boats appeared upside down.

From this great distance the cities at each end of the pier looked far away, and ferry boats in the bay nearby seemed very small. Mr. Legg watched the spinning of the cable and stated the west one was about completed, and work will then start on the other side.

Leaving central pier the group journeyed over the "cat walk" to San Francisco, getting a thrill glimpsing the ocean fully 500 feet below the narrow walk.

FREEDOM!

This week has been designated as a period in which newspapers of California shall, among other things, give thanks to those early American journalists who fought for, and won, freedom of the press

Think what that means! It means that the newspaper you are now reading is not subject to any arbitrary external power or authority. It means that no despotic government may dictate what you shall or shall not read . . . what you shall or shall not know. Press freedom means your freedom! Because without knowledge all are slaves.

Give light and the people will find their own way. Smother the sources of their knowledge or distort the information that you give and there can be nothing but darkness.

There is darkness in Italy. Mussolini controls the Press. There is darkness in Germany. Hitler controls the Press. There is darkness in Russia. The Soviet controls the Press. No power on earth can tell this newspaper what it shall or shall not print. No hindrance stays its duty in defending your individual or collective rights from encroachment.

EILEEN JACQUES WRITES PRIZE ESSAY ON P. T. A.

The essay contest sponsored by the P. T. A. proved of great interest not only to the pupils of the Sixth Seventh and Eighth grades of the grammar school, but to the committee in charge of the selection of the winner.

So many fine essays were submitted that it was very difficult to make a choice. The committee consisting of Mrs. GeGorge R. Schrader, Mrs. George Keller, and Mr. Walter Carlson selected Eileen Jacques of the Seventh Grade as the prize winner. The prize will be presented at the meeting of the P. T. A. tomorrow. Other pupils submitting essays worthy of honorable mention were:

Doreen Watson, Jane Bennett, and Marjorie Trevillyan of the Eighth Grade, Anna Schrader and Walter Miller of the Seventh, Rudy Bilich, of Miss Swart's grade and Marilyn Lee of the Sixth Grade.

Following is the prize composition:

WHY I WANT MY MOTHER TO JOIN THE P. T. A.

I want my mother to join the P. T. A. because the membership dues will help raise funds to make our school better. Because she becomes acquainted with knowing my teacher. The teacher will be able to understand me better. It also shows that she is taking an interest in the affairs of the school.

EILEEN JACQUES,
Seventh Grade.

Some excerpts from other essays worthy of mention.

I think the P. T. A. is a wonderful thing for any school to have. It acquaints the mothers and teachers and helps the mother to know more about her child's work in school. The P. T. A. helps out all it can in everything it can, and I think every mother should join if possible.

DOREEN WATSON,
Eighth Grade.

I want my mother to belong to the P. T. A. because it does so much for the boys and girls. They furnished the rest room for those who are feeling ill at school. They cooperated with us and helped in the parade for the new school house.

MARJORIE TREVILLYAN,
Eighth Grade.

Because she could easily communicate with my teachers and find out how my school work is. Because she could help poor people. Because she could learn many interesting things about our school life. Because she could help with the different school entertainments.

JANE BENNETT,
Eighth Grade.

Good old P. T. A. I hope my mother joins the P. T. A. because we all want the club house. We all want the party. And we all like to see the plays that the boys and girls give. So help, mother and father, we need your help.

RUDY BILICH.

I would like her to go so I would not have to tell her what I did at school today.

The P. T. A. is working for child welfare so that the children of this generation will be well educated.

MARILYN LEE,
Sixth Grade.

I think parents should have a part in school affairs.

BERNICE BANKUS,
Eighth Grade.

I think my mother should belong to the P. T. A. because it helps so many organizations such as Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, and Camp Fire Girls which all help to make true American citizens. These are but a few of the organizations the P. T. A. helps. It gives underweight children milk. I should be proud to know that my mother was helping to make healthy, happy American citizens.

ANNA SCHRADER,
Seventh Grade.

NEVADA COUNTY WILL HAVE MORE MONEY TO SPEND

State Controller Ray L. Riley has issued a comprehensive study of assessed valuations, tax rates and the changes in tax levies for present tax year. Sixteen counties of the state show an increased tax burden on private property. Six counties, including San Francisco, show reductions.

In Nevada County, according to Ray Riley's figures, the assessed value of real estate is $3,616,295; improvements on real estate, $3,138,460; personal property, $1,170,930; totaling $7,925,685. The total state assessment subject to local taxes is $6,751,200, and the grand total of property subject to local taxes is $14,676,885. The tax rate, both inside and outside is $1.40. Nevada County is one of sixteen counties in the state which has no funded debt, nor has it any floating debt.

While the Nevada County tax levy has been greatly reduced it will this year yield $205,476 as compared with $140,716 last year. This is due to the reversion of public utilities to county tax rolls.

THURSDAY CLUB TO AID IN PARK IMPROVEMENT

The GoGld Flat Thursday Club at its last meeting adopted a plan to aid in improving the municipal park. They have the Park Commission to be allotted a plot in the park which they propose to improve, plant to ornamental flowers and shrubbery and care for. A committee of the commission, consisting of Mrs. Leland Smith and Mrs. George Gildersleeve has been named to meet with the ladies of the Thursday club and assign them such a plot as they desire to improve.

The commission welcomed this assistance from this well known organization and hopes that will establish a very fine precedent.

DELEGATION TO FIGHT GOLD TAX

A large delegation of Nevada City and Grass Valley mining men, and representatives of business houses tomorrow will attend the big meeting of mining interests at Sacramento, which is called to protest the proposed severance tax on gold. Among others who will attend the meeting is Fred Searls, vice president of the Newmont company, who is now in this city.

HI STUDENTS TO VISIT MANTECA SUGAR REFINERY

(By BEN SWEENEY)

A group of approximately thirty students, members of the combined biology classes of Nevada City high school, will travel in the school bus to Manteca tomorrow on the first field trip of the year. Leaving from the high school at 7:30 Saturday morning, the group will journey to Manteca where, under the leadership of Mr. Hobbie, science instructor, they will make an inspection of the sugar refinery in that city. On the return trip, a stop will be made at Sacramento to view the water filtration plant.

Such field trips, made throughout the school year, add much to the course which could not be obtained from the pages of a text book. The group will spend an entire day in the field and expect to return some time tomorrow evening.

HOW LONG, O COL. JACKSON?

This newspaper has been endeavoring to get some definite information in reference to hydraulic operations for this coming season in reference to the Yuba, American and Bear Rivers, but so far we have not been able to get very much definite news, aand, apparently, it is all on account of Colonel Jackson, the head of the Debris Commission, who has taken it upon himself to make things just as tough as possible, nothwithstanding the fact that he and his entire staff are being paid by the tax payers and also the fact that there is nothing in Northern California that would be of more benefit to the community as a whole than to have these hydraulic operations going full swing.

We have understood that Colonel Jackson will probably retire the early part of next year and it would seem from his dilatory actions that it would be a good thing for the community and for the state if he would either retire or resign or were removed without further delay.

There are entirely too many people eating at the public trough and riding around in state owned machines with their private chauffeur, who are retarding progress instead of helping at a time when the government is spending billions of dollars for relief and it is high time in the opinion of this newspaper that business be given an opportunity to go ahead.

STATE LIBRARY MAKES EXHIBIT OF NEWSPAPERS

In celebration of Newspaper Week October 14 to 20, the California State Library is maintaining a special exhibit of early newspapers in the California room The State Library's collection of newspapers, numbering over 14,500 volumes, is the best collection of California newspapers in existence.

Included in the exhibit are complete files of the Californian, the first newspaper printed in California; The California Star, the first paper printed in San Francisco; The Placer Times, the first paper printed in Sacramento; The Sacramento Union, the oldest continuous paper still in existence, and the Sacramento Bee.

The Californian printed its first issue at Monterey, August 15, 1846. The first issue of the California Star, printed in San Francisco, was dated January 9, 1847. In the latter part of 1848 these two papers combined and formed the Alta California which was printed in San Francisco. From January 4, 1849 to April 24, 1849, the Alta California was the only paper that was being printed in California. On April 24, 1849, the management of this paper started the Placer Times in Sacramento. This was followed in the fall by the Pacific News. These were the only 49 papers published.

An index to bound volumes of newspapers, commencing with Augusst 15, 1846, and now complete to the present day, includes over 3,000,000 entries, largely from San Francisco papers, and this makes possible ready reference to most events in the state's history.

In addition to the above California newspapers to be shown there will be also a copy of the Pony Express edition of the St. Joseph Daily Gazette, printed at St. Joseph, Missouri, April 3, 1860.

PENNSYLVANIA MINE

The Pennsylvania mine in Browns Valley under supervision of Ernest Cole of Nevada City, for the Newmont Interests, has encountered good ore. In olden times many tons of rich ore was mined until the ledges were lost in faulting formation. The new company has reconditioned the shaft and completed considerable development work. Several adjoining properties have been taken under option by the Newmont Mining Company in recent months.

BE "SKID CONSCIOUS" AFTER FIRST RAINS

Time of the early rains is here and motorists are or should be "skid conscious." They know that after the first few minutes of rain paved roads seem to become coated with a slippery film which soon washes away if the rain continues. But few motorists actually know what causes this "greasy" condition. The answer is given in a statement today by the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association warning of the skidding danger. The motorists organization is emphasizing all phases of safe driving in an effort to reduce the accident toll.

Motorists may be more on their guard if they know just what happens to a highway right after rain begins, it is pointed out. Here is the explanation:

Bottled cold creams, salad dressings and the like show that oil and water can be made to mix if a proper emulsifier is used Fine dust or clay is just as good an emulsifier as soap or egg yolk.

Surface slime on the highway is just another kind of emulsion:

During the long, dry months highways became coated with oil and grease from the thousands of cars and this material simply lies there and picks up dust from a dozen sources, including even ground rubber from the countless tires.

The result of this is a mixture which needs only a few drops of water and a vigorius churning to make a highly slippery emulsion. Luckily, this dangerous film mixes freely with more water, so that it rapidly becomes thinner and is finally washed away. A few minutes of hard rain and the road surface is left clean and nearly as safe as a dry pavement.

Besides these first rain skids, the statement continues, motorists should be alert for other skidding hazards, such as the presence of fallen leaves on the roadway in some localities.

SPRING HILL MINE

Forty men are employed at the Spring Hill mine north of Grass Valley in mining and milling. The big mill, installed in recent weeks, is treating from 100 to 125 tons of ore per day. according to hardness of ore encountered. Don Carlos Billick of Nevada City is mill superintendent, and H. R. Plate is general superintendent.

At two o'clock in the morning one of the guests awoke his companion.

"Change places with me ,Dick," he groaned, "It's my turn to lie on the feather."—Grit.

MAY ROBSON IN 'KIND LADY' IS COMING TO S. F.

Marking her return to the theatre of the spoken word after an absence of five years, May Robson has scored a veritable triumph at the Curran Theatre in San FFrancisco in "Kind Lady," the thrilling drama by Edward Chodorov which is founded on "The Silver Mask" a story by Hugh Walpole. Of all the players who toured the country none had as loyal a following as Miss Robson and she always played the cities, large and small. Her visits have been sadly missed. Miss Robson has been trying to arange a sufficient leave from her duties at the studio to permit her once again to visit the many cities she was wont to play in California in her many tours, but she deeply regrets that it cannot be arranged much as she wanted it done. Therefore her present tour, under the management of Homer Curran, will be confined to appearances in San Francisco and Los Angeles, and she hopes that as many of her friends as can arrange to do so will be able to come to see her in those cities. Mr. Curran has surrounded Miss Robson with an exceptionally fine cast headed by Ralph Forbes, and H. C. Potter who directed the play for its successful New York presentation came to the Coast to have charge of its production for Mr. Curran. The engagement of Miss Robson in "Kind Lady" is a limited one and the matinees are on Wednesday and Saturday.

A group composed of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Foote and two children, Mrs. Renfree, Norman Foote and Miss Betty Foote, motored to Deleker recently and visited with Mrs. Renfree's son, Carl Foote, and family. Leonard and Norman Foote motored up ahead of the other family members and enjoyed a deer hunt.

"I shall put you fellows in the same room," said the host, "you'll have a comforjable night. It has a feather bed."

C. I. F. MANAGERS STUDY FOOTBALL CLASSIFICATIONS

(By BEN SWEENEY)

At a meeting of the Board of Managers of the C. I. F. held in Stockton recently, Principal H. E. Kjorlie, of Nevada City high, finally aroused more than a casual interest in the idea of classification of football players as well as basketball players. Having introduced the idea into a meeting held some years ago, Kjorlie had been able to gain little support until the meeting in Stockton when a motion was passed that President Hannah of the Board select a committee to study the problem.

The program in brief is just this. For years, the C. I. F. has had definite rules and regulations concerning the classification of basketball team into specific divisions according to the weight of the players. Thus it has been that most high schools sponsor A, B, and C teams in their schedules. The regulations governing this arrangement have been strict, and yet basketball is a game where in no bodily contact is supposed to take place.

The arrangement on basketball teams, however, is as it should be. The puzzling part of the entire problem lies in the fact that there has never been any official classification of football teams. In other words, if one high school only arranges for A games on its schedules, and another high school is unable to produce any but a B outfit, those two teams of entirely different sizes and weights must meet on the gridiron. Football is distinctly a game involving bodily contact to the highest degree. Yet no interest has been taken until now in the plan of arranging a schedule where in equal teams would meet. An outstanding objection has been the expense necessary to maintain both an A and a B team where high schools are capable of turning out both groups. Yet it would seem that hospital and doctor bills would be of greater importance than bills for outfitting two teams.

The games played by Nevada City so far this season are good examples of the folly of matching teams of unequal weights. Four games have been played, three of them with B teams whose players were evenly balanced in weight and size with Nevada City men. In those three contests, there was not a single injury caused. In the other game, played against an A team, which would naturally consist of bigger, heavier men, there were four injuries on Nevada City men, two of which kept players from entering games a week later. Learning by experience is not advisable when it means injuries to young men which might be of a lasting nature. The sensible solution to the problem is to organize rules similar to those maintained by the basketball teams at the present time.

Nevada City high school has been represented on the Board of Managers of the C. I. F. for six consecutive years. H. E. Kjorlie has been active in attempting to instigate action on problems of this kind, the proper solution to which would be of great benefit to boys who play inter-scholastic football in this league. The results of the stidies of CHINESE STUDENT LIFE LIKE THAT IN U. S.

The students of Chinese universities go in for athletics in a big way, and in other respects Chinese university life is much like that in the United States. This is stated by Dr. Ira J. Condit, associate professor of subtropical horticulture in the University of California at Los Angeles, who has just completed a year of teaching in Lingnan University, Canton. Last year twelce American students, ten of them from California, studied at that University.

SHADY CREEK GRAVEL MINE

The Shady Creek gravel property on the Downieville highway above North San Juan, under the supervision of Mr. Zack, has ten men employed. The equipment consists of gas shovel, drag line, several trucks and sluice boxes. Trucks haul the gravel from the scene of operations to sluice boxes 500 feet away and many yards of gravel are areated per day. The drag line clears the surface gravel for a depth of several inches storing it up on the banks. The rest of the channel, which is about 25 feet deep to bed rock, is taken out and sluiced. The crews work in two shifts, and work is progressing as fast as possible in order to get as much done as possible before wet weather sets in. A good gold recovery is reported.

DEER CREEK UNION MINE

Three men are employed at the Deer Creek Union property southeast of Nevada City in the Canada Hill district. Minor repairs are being made and the water kept drained out of the tunnel. Sacramento and Folsom business men are reopening the mine. It is owned by Capt. George A. Nihell. Three cottages have been built on the ground for employees in recent weeks.

GRACEY MINE

Two men are employed at the Gracey-Glencoe mine south of Nevada City where a number of improvements and repairs have been made in recent weeks. The main shaft of 1,000 feet is kept unwatered. In a short time it is expected mining and milling will start. The shaft is in good ore and the mine fully equipped for immediate operation. L. W. Cheney of the bay district is in charge.

DUPLICATION OF GOV. SERVICE WASTES TAXES

(By RALPH H. TAYLOR)

Duplication of functions and activities by the several branches of government—federal, state and local—undoubtedly ranks today as one of the greatest single causes of excessive overhead and extravagance in the whole system of American government.

Yet it has continued to flourish and multiply, with little or no constructive effort to control it—a classic but expensive example of the high cost of public indifference to public problems!

The invasion of federal tax fields by the states, and similar encroachments by the national government on state tax sources—requiring both branches of government to maintain costly and duplicating collection systems—is a more recent phase of the over lapping abuse which completes the vicious circle.

With more tax dollars required to pay for cumbersome duplication of agencies, new duplicating tax boards now are created to collect the funds to defray the cost of the original duplication!

The only end in view is the end of the taxpayer's pocketbook or his patience. If something is not done to check the development of the present ramshackle, top-heavy multiple winged house of government, the whole structure will ultimately collapse of its own weight.

It is not sufficient, however, to point with alarm to the problem. California's state wide farm organizations, together with other tax-conscious and tax weary groups, would do well to blaze the trail toward reform by intelligent studies and research which would make it possible to effect an orderly division of governmental responsibilities and elimination of unnecessary duplication.

As the primary objective in such a campaign, the taxpayers should demand of their legislators and congressional representatives that there be a sensible segregation of tax sources as between the various branches of government to wipe out needless duplication of tax collecting agencies.

Illustrative of this need is the fact that California's state government, through the Franchise Tax Commissioner's Office, is now preparing to add approximately 1,000 employees to the state payroll to collect the new state income tax.

Yet the federal government already has the machinery set up for the collection of the federal income tax in California.

On the other hand, the national government, some years ago, invaded the gas tax field in California—levying a cent a gallon federal tax and establishing machinery to collect a tax which duplicated, to large extent, the state's plant for collecting the state gasoline tax.

It so happens that the state will net approximately the same revenue from its state income tax that the federal government takes from California in its gas tax. A practical segregation of tax sources, with the federal government reserving certain fields and the states allocated others, would have made it possible for both branches of government to secure the same number of tax dollars with two less agencies.

Until federal and state officials get together on a fair and practical segregation of tax measures, saying, in effect, "You take this one and I'll take that one"—neither legislators nor government officers can be blamed too severely for present extravagant methods of collection.

The methods are a product of a faulty and inherently cumbersome system.

In any workable division of tax sources, the federal government would undoubtedly be awarded the exclusive right to use the income tax a field which it pioneered. And the states, under such a division, would probably be allocated exclusive right to levy a sales tax. Local governments—cities and counties—might have exclusive rights to the property tax under such a separation of tax sources.

But regardless of the division determined on, hundreds of millions of dollars in unnecessary tax collection costs would be eliminated in the United States, with the result that all taxes could be made lighter. And that, in the final analysis, is the result in which the taxpayer is most interested!

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

World Conquerors

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—Conceded that Italy started hostilities against a weaker race for purely selfish motives, which among the nations that might seek to block her would come with clean hands?

It wouldn't be Britain, with her record in the opium war. It couldn't be France, with her record toward colonial possessions, and, lately, toward occupied territories. Not Belgium, surely, with her reeking record in the Congo. Not Spain with the Riff to accuse her; nor Germany, which grabbed off one of the fattest cockles of Africa's heart when the grabbing was good; nor Japan, with her teeth set in China's torn flanks. Nor yet America, with long centuries behind her of infamous mistreatment—for our own Indians.

Irvin S. Cobb

Out of all history, you'll find but one world-conqueror who came with clean hands—and those hands the soldiers pierced with iron spikes as they nailed the Nazarene to the cross.

Arkansas Athletes

IF THEY craved to get on the front page, the Italians made a grave mistake by starting a war when there's a World series on—especially one where you find two opposing star pitchers from the same great state. What scoundrel was it said the chief products of Arkansas were Democrats and champion hog-callers?

And why shouldn't that Warneke boy be able to throw straight and move fast? Where he comes from, when the family's out of meat one of the youngsters runs down a buck rabbit or slips out before breakfast with a pocketful of rocks and comes home with a mess of squirrels. If they'd only let him take off his shoes, he could move around that infield even faster.

Also, it "comes natchell," as they say in his country and mine, to nurse one quid in the right cheek all afternoon. I was sixteen years old before I knew there was any other salad course except chewing tobacco or that oysters didn't grow in a can.

Pestered Presidents

PROBABLY California was no worse than any other section, but I'll bet Mr. Roosevelt uttered a silent cheer when he pulled out on a commodious and uncrowded ocean with only the sea lions to listen to, instead of the spouting orators of America.

We elect a man to the highest office—and the toughest job on earth—and then handshake him and flag-wave him and speech-make him to death. He goes forth to see how fares the country and can't see the country for the reception committees. He has a private car to travel in and spends his time on the back platform. He goes back home to do his work and all the visiting firemen in the land come to be photographed with him on the White House lawn. (NOTE—The exhausted gentleman crouched in the middle is him.)

A President of the United States has no more privacy than a—a President of the United States. Fooled you goldfish fanciers that time, didn't I?

It's as though we hired the exclusive services of Michelangelo and then sent him out to take orders for enlarged crayon portraits.

Kentucky Elections

THEY had a primary election in Kentucky not long ago, and we didn't know the results until fully 24 hours afterward because they've got a law down there against counting the vote for at least one day after the polls close, then allowing time to notify the families of deceased and the coroners.

As a native son, I'll never forget the thrill I had in 1932 when all the rest of the country had reported—a party named Hoover also was running that year—and then the first scattering returns came in from Kentucky: seven dead and eighteen wounded.

But I'm afraid the old state is slipping. There were only 750 National Guardsmen on duty for this last election in Harlan county, where the mountain boys still have a boyish way of voting with Winchester rifles. And I can remember when a Republican governor called out the entire military force of the commonwealth to disperse one lone Democrat, Col. Jack Chinn. The colonel wasn't feeling very irritated, either—just a trifle above normal.

Those I. O. U.'s

IF MEMORY rightly serves this humble scribe, it's almost time for our government to go through the laughable routine of sending off the customary batch of those quaint "please remit" notes to remind the European powers that accumulated installments and back interest payments are overdue on that little debt of eleven or twelve billions.

The usual procedure will be followed—that is, the rest of 'em will just ignore the whole theory, and somebody in Paris, where the repudiation idea originated, will denounce Uncle Sam for his hideous greed.

"Lafayette, they ain't there."

Said Pluvius, rolling out a cloud,
"I'm going to let it rain;
I'm going to turn the spiggot now
And start the glad refrain;
Go mend the roof, set every nail,
This is my annual Twice Told Tale.
—A. M. C.

Silver fingers of rain probed every weakness in the sheltering roof? It won't happen again; before the next storm seasonable precautions will be taken and the roof be made safe for the family.
